

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A removable tabletop assembly for use with a folding chair convertible from a folded mode into an unfolded mode. The chair having a frame, including a plurality of interconnected frame tubes, the tabletop assembly comprising a platform with connectors extending there from configured to connect with a pair of chair bracket assemblies that are attached to the frame tubes of the chair. Upon removal of the platform, the chair can be converted between the folded mode and the unfolded mode without removal of the chair bracket assemblies.